

MICHIGAN MAY DEMAND FEDERAL TROOPS TO QUELL "REBELLION"

ANTI-PROHIBITION REVOLT STAGED BY OFFICIALS

Open Revolt Reported Against Federal Prohibition

LIQUOR IS SEIZED

Government May Send Troops to Quit Riots.

Washington, Feb. 23.—"I will ask for federal troops to combat the so-called whiskey rebellion in Michigan if the conditions warrant such action," declared Federal prohibition Commissioner Kramer today. "I believe that the occurrence has been greatly exaggerated and that the situation is not as serious as it may seem, but if full facts warrant drastic action, I will give my whole support to Major Dalmryple in a call for federal troops to wipe out those in revolt."

Commissioner Kramer stated that he had not received detailed reports of the "rebellion" yet, but that he had information showing that there was a very general violation of the prohibition law in the Iron county district of Michigan.

Assistant Attorney General C. B. Ames will act for department of justice, if action is necessary it was stated, but officials stated today that they believe the situation is now in hand.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Authorities at Washington have been notified by Major A. L. Dalmryple, federal prohibition director for the central states, that a "rebellion against prohibition" has broken out in Iron county, Mich., and the county, led by its prosecuting attorney, is in "open revolt" against federal officials.

A prohibition agent and a party of Michigan state constables were held up by Iron county officials and wine they had confiscated taken from them, according to word brought to Chicago by Leo J. Grove of Marquette, supervising agent for the upper peninsula.

Major Dalmryple appealed to Attorney General Palmer to order warrants issued for the arrest of the prosecutor, two deputy sheriffs, two police officers and three other residents of Iron River, a mining village near the Wisconsin line.

While awaiting word from federal officials Dalmryple issued orders for a company of picked prohibition agents to gather here preparatory to starting on an armed expedition which, he declared, will "clean up" Iron county. The Michigan state constabulary will be asked to co-operate in the expedition.

Grove, accompanied by Lieutenant R. G. Stroppe and Troopers Masters and Kind of the state constabulary, seized 11 barrels of wine at a mine two miles from Iron River, he reported to Major Dalmryple. The wine is said to have been made by John, Peter and Steven Scalcucci, Italians, who own several business ventures at Iron River.

Grove loaded the liquor into a sleigh and started to move it to Caspian, headquarters of the state constabulary, in that section of the peninsula. When the sleigh reached Iron River, according to reports, it was met by Prosecuting Attorney P. A. McDonough, Deputy Sheriff's Chad and Jesse Allen, Police Chief C. H. Sensiba and Police Captain Claude Brown.

McDonough, according to Grove's report, told the prohibition supervisor that he was "under arrest for transporting liquor" and ordered his men to seize the wine. Grove put up a fight, but was overpowered. The wine, he says, was returned to the Scalcucci brothers by McDonough, who, the report adds, told the brothers to post an armed guard over it with orders to shoot if the federal agent tried to regain possession.

GAS SUPPLY CAUSES CONCERN IN COUNTY

Rumors that the gas supply may be cut off from Osborn, Fairfield and Yellow Springs, due to alleged trouble which the Jantha Gas Company, which supplies those villages, is said to have had with the Logan Gas Company are causing some concern in the Greene county towns.

The Jantha Company supplies gas to Greenville, New Castle, New Madison, New Paris, East, West Alexandria, Lewisburg, Brookfield, Osborn Fairfield and Yellow Springs.

Before the gas supply can be cut off in any community, notice must be given and a hearing held before the public utilities commission.

BOLSHEVIKI HOLD CAPTURED TERRITORY

London, Feb. 23.—All of northern Russia is now in the hands of the soviet forces, said a Reuter dispatch from Copenhagen today.

Premier of Soviet Russia Gives Stand On Pact.

APPROVES NEW PEACE

Considers Raising of Blockade Big Factor in Relations.

London, Feb. 23.—Nicholas Lenine, premier of soviet Russia, compares some of the decisions of the peace conference with "scraps of paper" in an interview given by wireless today to Ambrose Lambert, the Copenhagen correspondent of the London Daily Express, and printed by the Daily Express today. Lenine declared that soviet Russia desires peace and economic reconstruction of the country.

The interview follows: "The allies, together with their friends and lackeys, General Denkin and Admiral Kolchak, attacked us. We did not attack anyone. Now we are awaiting the allies decision to give up intervention. But the story of the Versailles peace and its subsequent developments, indicate in most cases that the allies words disagree with their deeds and decisions and remain scraps of paper."

"We consider the lifting of the blockade a big step forward opening the possibility of passing out of the war which was forced upon us by capitalist governments of the entente and assisting towards reconstruction. This is of the greatest importance to us as we are straining all efforts towards the reconstruction of our economic life which was ruined, first by the war between capitalist states over the world over the Dardanelles; second by the war between the capitalists of the entente and Russia against the workers of Russia."

"Our aims are cessation of hostilities with the allies and the peaceful building up of our economic life."

VERDICT AT POLLS ON PEACE TREATY NOW INEVITABLE

Pact Must Become Issue in 1920 Election.

CONCERN EXPRESSED

Fear Party Conventions May Be Badly Disturbed.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The peace treaty will be pushed further into the presidential campaign by the senate this week.

Republicans and Democrats regard the die cast, the issue fixed. They consider ratification hopeless for the present, and accept the referendum, the verdict of the people at the polls, as inevitable.

Both sides view the outlook with concern. Torn by conflicting opinion and fractional strife are the party lines in the senate, as a result of long, nerve racking work of bitter dissension over the treaty. Republican and Democratic leaders outside the senate are engaged desperately in seeking to prevent the treaty from reaching the Chicago and San Francisco conventions. The bitter verbal attack by Senator Hiram Johnson of California, on Elihu Root and the "old guard" leaders who led the unofficial Republican state convention at New York last week in advocating ratification with the Lodge reservations, is but one rift in Republican harmony certain to be felt at Chicago.

Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican leader of the senate is only one of the "old guard" who find themselves in daily conflict with Republican senators like Johnson who are determined to fight the proposed commitment of the American people to the league of nations to a finish, reservations or no reservations. Lodge believes the Republican party at Chicago will take the same position on the treaty as did the Republican gathering at New York City. Johnson and Senator Borah, of Idaho, and other Republicans are opposed to its doing so. They intend to go before the people in the campaign before and after the convention, on a straight out rejection of the league of nations idea.

Wood's declaration was received by John H. Price, his Ohio manager, and taken immediately to the headquarters of Secretary of State Smith in the Neil House, who later filed them in his office.

One of the papers was a general declaration which places his name on the preferential ballot along with that of Senator Harding and possibly others. There has been talk of Senator Johnson, California, filing a similar declaration. Another paper was a statement by Wood authorizing candidates for delegates to name him as their choice.

WILSON HOLDS KEY TO FUTURE OF RAILROAD LABOR SITUATION

Action of Union Conference Will Be Decided by Stand of the President On Increase of Wages to Living Costs.

CUMMINS-ESCH BILL UNDER FIRE IN SENATE

Railroad Workers Attack Legislation—May Request President Wilson to Veto Bill If It Passes the Senate.

Washington, Feb. 23.—President Wilson today holds the key to the future of the railroad labor situation.

This was the general impression here today as 2,000 officers of railroad unions and brotherhoods gathered for a conference to decide whether or they shall accept the president's proposals for adjusting the wage demands which the workers have made.

Bert M. Jewell, head of the railway employees division of the American Federation of Labor, stated that the entire action of the conference probably would depend upon whether the president will assure workers of immediate action to adjust their wages to meet living costs.

Most of the representatives who arrived here today were willing to accept any measure of relief but were insistent that there must be immediate action.

The Cummins Esch bill for the return of the railroads which is before the senate today, was under fire from the railroad workers, and it was regarded as highly probable that the conference would ask President Wilson to veto the bill if it passes the senate.

A movement was also under way to stage a demonstration against the bill for the benefit of the senate.

Representatives of the workers were unanimous in their opposition to the provisions of the bill which guarantees 5 1/2 per cent return to the railroads and declared that the president must veto this clause or make some sort of similar guarantee to the workers.

The labor provisions of the bill were not acceptable to the leaders and they have virtually agreed to insist that the president appoint at once a wage adjustment board composed of employers and employees.

President Wilson may send a message to the conference, it was learned at the White House. If he does not it is expected the conference will ask for a hearing with the president before it takes any final action on his proposals.

President Wilson will make a reply to the request for a committee of employers and employees to adjust wages, it was announced at the White House today. A request for such a committee was transmitted to the president on Saturday. The reply probably will not be sent to the conference before late today.

Bert M. Jewell, head of the railway employees division of the American Federation of Labor, stated that the entire action of the conference probably would depend upon whether the president will assure workers of immediate action to adjust their wages to meet living costs.

Most of the representatives who arrived here today were willing to accept any measure of relief but were insistent that there must be immediate action.

The Cummins Esch bill for the return of the railroads which is before the senate today, was under fire from the railroad workers, and it was regarded as highly probable that the conference would ask President Wilson to veto the bill if it passes the senate. A movement was also under way to stage a demonstration against the bill for the benefit of the senate.

Representatives of the workers were unanimous in their opposition to the provisions of the bill which guarantees 5 1/2 per cent return to the railroads and declared that the president must veto this clause or make some sort of similar guarantee to the workers.

The labor provisions of the bill were not acceptable to the leaders and they have virtually agreed to insist that the president appoint at once a wage adjustment board composed of employers and employees.

President Wilson may send a message to the conference, it was learned at the White House. If he does not it is expected the conference will ask for a hearing with the president before it takes any final action on his proposals.

President Wilson will make a reply to the request for a committee of employers and employees to adjust wages, it was announced at the White House today. A request for such a committee was transmitted to the president on Saturday. The reply probably will not be sent to the conference before late today.

MR. CAR OWNER

If you want to sell a used car follow the accepted plan—advertise in classified. Of course you cannot sell a car for more than its worth even through exaggerated advertising is merely a form of dishonesty. Advertise truthfully, telling the facts about the car you have to offer—and if these facts are favorable you will sell your car at a right price.

IS 93 BUT HE WALKS 2 MILES WITHOUT TIRING

This Man Who Indorses Vola-Tonic Knew Cincinnati as a Village

When James Dryer, 425 Clinton street, Cincinnati, O., gave a statement about Vola-Tonic for publication recently the entire city of Cincinnati was interested. Mr. Dryer, who is 93 years old, moved to Cincinnati in 1835 and knew that city as a village of about 2,000. He probably is one of the oldest residents of Cincinnati now living and everybody was interested in what he had to say about Vola-Tonic.

Stating that Vola-Tonic had made him feel years younger, Mr. Dryer went on to explain his case fully. "Unfortunately I had influenza last winter and had not been strong since," Mr. Dryer said. "My vitality was low due to my age and the influenza further weakened me. I couldn't sleep well and was very nervous at times."

"Vola-Tonic has built up my system all over, and has made me feel years younger. I can walk two miles to the city library and back without any rest."

"I think Vola-Tonic is excellent for elderly people and for everybody else who needs more strength." There's wisdom in the words of a 93-year-old man. Years before most of us were here, James Dryer was studying conditions and accumulating knowledge. You can have faith and confidence in what he says. And he says "Vola-Tonic is excellent for anybody needing more strength." If you are weak and run down get Vola-Tonic—TODAY!

Vola-Tonic, "Builder Of Strength," is being specially introduced in Xenia at Sayre and Hemphill's; and in Jamestown by W. F. Harper.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples Are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poison and impurities which are generated in the bowels and through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear; cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

DEATH CLAIMS LOUISE BRYSON EARLY MONDAY

Agnes Louise Bryson, well known young woman of this county, died at her home on the Springfield pike, at three o'clock Monday morning, death being due to pneumonia, following grip.

Taken ill just a week ago last Friday, Miss Bryson, who is a teacher in the Ross township centralized school, returned home and went immediately to bed. She developed pneumonia about four days ago, which resulted in her death.

Miss Bryson was the daughter of R. E. and Ella Bryson, and was born on the farm north of town, May 15, 1894, being thus in her 26th year. She had lived all her life in and near Xenia, graduating from Central high school here in the class of 1912. She matriculated at Muskingum College from which she graduated in 1918.

Miss Bryson was a natural teacher and began her teaching career in 1917, when she remained out of school and taught in the schools of Chase City. After completing her college work she taught during the year 1919 in the public schools of Maxburg, Washington county, and this year was teaching in the high school of the Ross township centralized schools.

Miss Bryson was a member of the Second United Presbyterian church in this city, and was an ardent church worker, especially among the young people. She was interested in mission work and offered her services to go as a foreign missionary.

Besides her parents, who survive her, Miss Bryson leaves two brothers, Harold of the Fairfield pike, and James at home; and a sister, Miss Martha at home. She is also a niece of Representative W. B. Bryson and of County Commissioner R. D. Williamson.

Funeral services will be held at the Second U. P. church Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, with Rev. Charles P. Proudfoot in charge, and interment will be made in Woodland cemetery.

URGES REMEDY FOR CLASS WAR IN CHURCHES

Urging a definite remedy for the war between classes, now going on, and declaring that more expedients and makeshifts will not serve the purpose, Catholic bishops and arch-bishops of the United States Sunday caused to be read in every Catholic church a joint pastoral, the first issued since 1885.

The letter was read at both masses by Rev. Father Albert Burke, pastor of St. Bridget's Catholic church in this city. It is aimed to have a definite influence upon the proposal to restore normal condition in America and set at rest the class conflict that makes progress impossible, and is a sequel to the reconstruction program issued by the same authorities a year ago, in which the reciprocal relationship between capital and labor is defined. The pastoral is signed by Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore on behalf of the American hierarchy, numbering 101 bishops and archbishops and was addressed to the 20,000,000 members of the clergy and laity committed to their spiritual care.

It was the first time since the third plenary council of Baltimore, 35 years ago, that the bishops of the country issued a joint pastoral. Cardinal Gibbons is the sole survivor of the 76 bishops who attended that council and who legislated for the Catholic population, then numbering approximately 7,000,000.

The pastoral outlines the fact that it is mainly through education that the Negro and Indian races shall be advanced in speaking of the value of education. It outlines the unrest and agitation now existing and urges obedience to the laws. The pastoral also touches upon the divorce question as it is abated by the Catholic church.

In conclusion the bishops say Catholics will do their full share toward the complete restoration of peace. "With one mind and heart," they say, "they will labor for our country's advantage."

Young Girls Made Strong

Mother tells how Vinol, our Cod Liver and Iron Tonic, built up her daughter.

Belvidere, Ill. — "My daughter was so weak and run-down that she had fainting spells and headaches. My druggist recommended Vinol, and the result was that her health and strength were built up very quickly by its use, and I hope my statement will convince other mothers of what Vinol will do for their little ones who are weak, run-down or delicate." — Mrs. John Lewis.

The Beef and Cod Liver Peptones contained in Vinol aided by the Iron and Hypophosphites quickly restores the appetite, aids digestion, makes rich, red blood and creates strength.

NOTE—Your leading druggist has for many years specially recommended Vinol because the full formula is printed on labels. Your money back if it fails.

TEACHERS AWARDED SALARY INCREASE IN EAST CLEVELAND

Xenia teachers, Miss Ruth E. Barnes and Miss Winnifred Savage, teachers in the public schools of East Cleveland, Ohio, will benefit by a substantial salary increase announced by the board of education of that city.

The board has announced a flat raise of $50 a month, which is retroactive to the time the teachers entered upon their duties in the schools there. Miss Barnes, who was receiving a salary of $1200 a year, will benefit from September by the raise and will receive back pay from that date which will be given her in the form of a bonus in February.

At that time Miss Barnes will receive $300 in the regular February pay, and from then on will receive $50 a month for the rest of the year. Miss Savage, who joined the faculty at East Cleveland later in the fall, will receive $50 a month back pay from the time she entered upon her duties there and from now on until the end of the school year.

This is "Teachers' Encouragement Week," and the board feels, that since teachers are hard to get now and harder to keep, that it can secure a satisfied faculty by advancing the salaries.

HE HAD TO DO THE HOUSEWORK AND FARM WORK TOO

But When Nerv-Worth Rescued Wife From the "Flu," She Rescued Him From the Dishpan.

In substance, source and value the following signed statement given a few days ago by C. C. Chondler of Richmond, near Steubenville, is one of the most forcible and convincing ever submitted in behalf of a medicine.

Beall & Steele—I have a double reason for praising Nerv-Worth. Last spring my wife had the "Flu" and she was not able to do the house work for a long time. We could not get any help and I had to work the farm and do housework, too. I read about some of the wonderful things Nerv-Worth was doing for people, and decided to try some for the wife.

She commenced to improve in three or four days after she started to take the medicine, and in less than two weeks was helping me with the housework. She soon got so she could do all the housework, and at the present time, I do not know of anybody that enjoys better health than she does.

I got out of doing the house work and got a well wife. That's why I have two reasons for praising Nerv-Worth.

High School Notes

The Central High five will get into action on a foreign court Tuesday night, when they tackle Yellow Springs High quintet at Kelly Hall. The Yellow Springs crowd have been traveling at a fast clip this year and have won the majority of their games. Last week they journeyed to Springfield and defeated Springfield High, 24 to 13.

Harold Little, former Antioch star, and who is performing brilliantly for the White Stars, champions of Springfield this year, is coaching the red and black wearers, and under his tutelage they have rounded into a formidable aggregation. Ernest Godfrey, of Wittenberg, also instructs the Yellow Springs lads.

At the tournament held here Yellow Springs did not cut much figure, losing out to Cedarville in their second game, but they were forced to play two consecutive games and this was a great handicap which they were unable to overcome.

The local team stacked up against Springfield earlier in the season and had to be content with the short end of a 19 to 14 score. From a comparison of their showing against Springfield the odds seem to favor Yellow Springs, and they also have the advantage of playing on their own floor.

Coach Fairies' charges are not worrying about past performances however, and believe that they will be able to take the measure of their opponents. The same lineup that started the Liberty game will probably be used but they will have much smoother team-work, as last week was the first time that the combination has played together.

PROMINENT PART TAKEN ON PERSONAL PART OF NEWBERRY

Grand Rapids, Feb. 23.—Prominent mention of Senator Truman H. Newberry bearing on the part he is alleged to have played personally in the 1918 senatorial campaign, was looked for at the opening of today's session of the trial in which he and 122 of his political henchmen are accused of vote frauds and conspiracy.

Thus far in the trial, most of the government's attention has been given to the other defendants in the case. There has been comparatively little mention of the senator himself, aside from the letter he is declared to have sent out to his workers, and a series of telegrams indicating he was watching his campaign closely.

THE REMARKABLE STORY OF WHY HIS OFFENDED MAJESTY, PRESIDENT WILSON WOULD NOT SEE LORD GREY, THE ENGLISH AMBASSADOR.

It is possible to clear up the mystery of President Wilson's refusal to receive Viscount Grey. Incidentally, the veil can be lifted from one of the most amazing and wholly unprecedented episodes in Washington diplomatic annals. It will come as a shock to admirers of Viscount Grey's statesman-like qualities and aptitude in international relations to hear that he was impelled, during the brief time he passed in the United States, to administer a direct snub to the Department of State and to Robert Lansing, who was then its chief.

The architect of Viscount Grey's troubles was Major Charles Kennedy Craufurd-Stuart. His tongue wagged indiscreetly in Washington society concerning the President and Mrs. Wilson. His conversational indiscretions led not only to his own undoing, but eventually to the personal discomfiture of Lord Grey, who insisted on shielding Major Craufurd-Stuart contrary to the expressed disapproval of the State Department.

The story dates back to the Earl of Reading's ambassadorship, extending from January, 1918, to May, 1919.

Major Craufurd-Stuart, fresh from brilliant war service against rebellious Sudanese tribesmen, accompanied Lord Reading to Washington as private secretary. Toward the end of Reading's mission, in the spring of 1919, Craufurd-Stuart at a diplomatic dinner party spoke freely of his opinions about President Wilson. His observations were overheard by his hostess, who happens to be a close friend of the White House family. Next day they were reported in detail to the Department of State. Lord Reading was summoned to the department, where formal objection was made to the conduct of his secretary. The British ambassador was asked to send Major Craufurd-Stuart home.

Lord Reading took up the matter with Craufurd-Stuart who obtained his chief's authority to go to the State Department and "explain matters." The major's representations there took the form of an appeal to be forgiven. Lord Reading, he said, would be going back to England shortly anyhow, and he was accompanying him, so that would close the incident automatically. The State Department, for the sake of good feeling all around, agreed not to insist on his instant departure from the country, but the British Foreign Office was privately apprised of the affair and of our government's annoyance over it.

While Major Craufurd-Stuart was still in the United States, a second complaint was lodged against him at the State Department. That too, referred to dinner-table talk. On the second occasion his accuser was a lady who explained that she had been thunderstruck at Craufurd-Stuart's expressions and had taken the precaution of committing them to writing before going to bed the same night. She submitted her memorandum in evidence. It concerned chiefly the British officer's allusions to Mrs. Wilson.

When Craufurd-Stuart sailed away with Lord Reading the State Department looked upon his departure as closing the incident. To the department's consternation, however, he came back four months later, this time as a junior diplomatic attaché of Viscount Grey's staff. Just when this surprising fact came to President Wilson's attention is not known. When the Grey party arrived the President was desperately ill. But the viscount had not been in command of the British embassy very long when the State Department, presumably at the White House's suggestion, requested the British ambassador to send Craufurd-Stuart to England by the earliest steamship. Viscount Grey demanded to know why the attaché was persona non grata. The information was withheld, accompanied by a more insistent request for Craufurd-Stuart's removal from American territory.

The President by the time that had recovered sufficiently to see the king, the queen and the crown prince of the Belgians, not to speak of the various members of his family, Mr. McAdoo, Mr. Tumulty and several cabinet members. On November 12, the Prince of Wales visited the President's bedside. By every diplomatic usage the prince should have been accompanied by the ambassador of his realm. Lord Grey was not presented. On Dec. 5, the President's recovery had advanced sufficiently for him to converse on affairs of state with Senators Hitchcock and Fall. But the British ambassador remained outside the presidential breastworks, notoriously chafing under his fate.

As Christmas approached and Viscount Grey let it be known that he would shortly return to England "on leave," Washington took it for granted that ways and means would be found for getting him to the President's side for however formal a five minutes. He was not summoned. He, Sir William Tyrrell and Major Craufurd-Stuart packed their bags at the embassy and on December 30 left Washington. Not the slightest notice of their departure was taken by the White House.

On January 3, the Grey party sailed from New York aboard the Mauretania. Their bon voyage telegrams did not include one from Mr. Wilson. On Jan. 10, Viscount Grey reached London. Three weeks later, on January 31, his epistle to the London Times, repudiating President Wilson's views on reservations to the league covenant was published. The letter contained no jot or tittle of reference to the "sick man of the West." Woodrow Wilson was not once mentioned in it by name, nor his physical prostration even so much as hinted at sympathetically or otherwise, despite the direct and unescapable bearing on the peace treaty controversy. The explanation, initiated persons in Washington are convinced, is to be found in the hitherto unpublished history set down in this dispatch.

"There are many unsung heroes and heroines in private life."

"Perhaps so."

"For instance, I know a young married couple who have been saving money for several years to buy a home."

"That isn't exactly what you'd call heroic, is it?"

"In their case, yes. After they'd saved enough to buy a bungalow they firmly refused to invest the money in a motor car."

"I don't understand all these daylight robberies," said the police officer.

"The explanation is easy," replied the criminologist. "Robbers now have their own motor cars. Wealth brings refinement and they do not care to come into contact with the rough element one is likely to meet on the streets at night."

"I am going into this station and fill my fountain pen with ink. A writer, you know, must always be ready to jot down a masterpiece."

"Yes, and if you could go into a notion store and fill it with notions, you'd do well."

"What's weighing on your mind, Chelly?"

"Do you think my mind is a pair of scales?"

"Well, no, if you want to be precise about it—scales are evenly balanced."

"John, I need a new dress. All I have are out of style."

"Everything's frightfully high, my dear. Better go in for literature for a while and pretend to be superior to the fashions."

HI SCHOOL NOTES

The senior class of Central high school held a party Friday night at which all members of the championship football team were guests and fittingly banqueted as a reward of their success.

Forty members of the class were present and they first assembled in the first floor corridor where dancing was a favorite amusement until they were called to the scene of the spread in the library.

A picnic supper was served on the cafeteria plan and it proved satisfactory. Sandwiches, salads, baked beans, pickles, cakes and apples were included in the array of eatables and the tables were laid in the form of a block.

After the feasting Lawrence Riddell, in behalf of the team, thanked the girls for their efforts and voiced their plentiful delicacies.

Miss Elwell was then called on and she made several timely remarks. Mr. Pendry gave a brief talk after which Elizabeth Mullen, Willis Bradley, George Pillsbury and Thelma Flannery responded with impromptu talks.

The class play "The Rivals" was next presented for the approval of the class. The class have not yet completed the parts but it was presented in order to give the class a knowledge of what to expect, and to give the players practice at appearing before an audience.

The party then returned to the first floor where dancing was resumed and enjoyed until time to leave.

Protect the radiator in cold weather if you wish to save gasoline. A cold engine is hard to start and is short of power. Keep the tires fully inflated as short tires consume power. Do not drive at excessive speed as power consumption increases at a faster rate of speed, with maximum fuel economy. Change gears rather than to climb a hill with wide open throttle. It saves the car and gas also.

Do not use the car needlessly or aimlessly. By exercise of forethought a number of errands can be combined so that one trip to town or elsewhere will do as well as two. Reduce the amount of riding for mere pleasure by shortening such trips or cutting down on their frequency.

The choking devices now supplied with most good cars, make starting easy even in the coldest weather. While a heated garage is a great comfort, it is far from necessary nowadays. However, an oil can filled with high test gasoline, or with a mixture of gasoline and ether, is a great starting help in an emergency. By squirting a bit of the liquid into each cylinder, through the petcocks or into the manifold, a quick start is assured.

a young man who practiced medicine in Pennsylvania became famous and was called in consultation in many towns and cities because of his success in the treatment of disease. He finally made up his mind to place some of his treatments before the entire United States and, moving to Buffalo, he put up what he called his Favorite Prescription, and placed it with the druggists in every state in the Union.

Do not drive at excessive speed as power consumption increases at a faster rate of speed, with maximum fuel economy. Change gears rather than to climb a hill with wide open throttle. It saves the car and gas also.

Do not use the car needlessly or aimlessly. By exercise of forethought a number of errands can be combined, so that one trip to town or elsewhere will do as well as two. Reduce the amount of riding for mere pleasure by shortening such trips or cutting down on their frequency.

The choking devices now supplied with most good cars, make starting a easy even in the coldest weather. While a heated garage is a great comfort, it is far from necessary nowadays. However, an oil can filled with high test gasoline, or with a mixture of gasoline and ether, is a great starting help in an emergency. By squirting a bit of the liquid into each cylinder, through the petcocks or into the manifold, a quick start is assured.

CENTRAL HIGH IS OUTCLASSED 19-6 BY INDIANA TEAM

The Central High five dropped a game to the Liberty, Indiana team at the rink Saturday night, the score standing 19 to 6 at the completion of forty minutes play.

The game was a tame affair and held little in the way of interest to the spectators until the last five minutes.

The local team was away off on basket shooting and team work and could not work the ball near enough to the basket to allow shooting with much chance of success and most of their attempts at long shots went wild. A complete reversal of the form they have been displaying in their last few games was noticeable and led to the down-fall of the local team.

Liberty was greatly superior in size and weight and could have easily passed for a college team. They showed the effects of their strenuous conflict with Stivers, on the previous night, and seemed somewhat listless at the start. Their chief advantage over the blue and white quintet was in the fact that they moved around on the floor more and this made their pass-work faster.

The game started with both teams doing little but standing around when the other team had the ball and watching them pass it. Liberty scored first and was never headed. Gagner dropped in a long one for the only point for the locals. The half ended with the score 8 to 2.

The second half began with both teams playing faster ball, and the play was a little improvement over that of the first period. In the middle of this half Coach Faires sent in some fresh men and they managed to put some pep into the contest and from the sidelines the last five minutes contained more interest than had the remainder of the game.

Bales, who was injected in the middle of the second period, played a whirlwind game, and sprang the sensation of the game when he tossed a long side shot in, throwing the ball over his shoulder as he was falling to the floor. Boxwell at guard, performed consistently, as did Knece and Gagner at the forwards.

Barnhart starred for the Indiana team, while McMahon and Martin were much in evidence.

RAILWAY UNIONS CONDEMN COLE

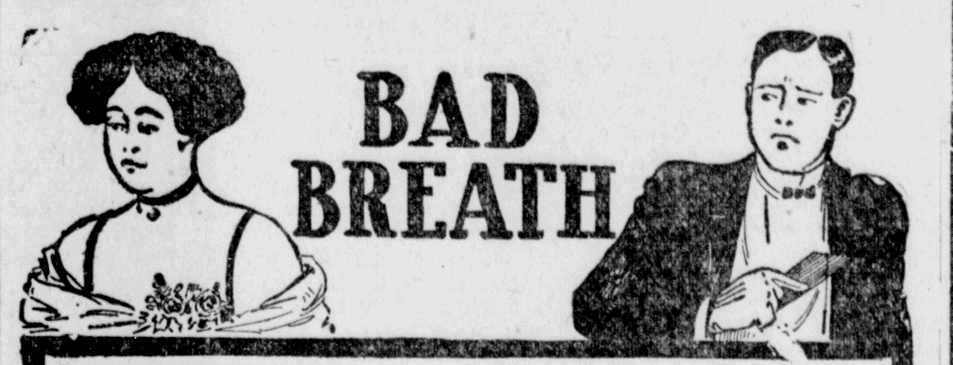

Columbus, O., Feb. 23.—Resolutions adopted by three local railway trainmen unions condemned the labor record of Ralph D. Cole, Findlay, Republican candidate for governor, during his service in congress. It is claimed

Cole voted against labor on five out of ten occasions, and on five other bills did not vote at all. The trainmen agreed to support only those candidates for election who are "fair" to labor.

BACK SO PAINFUL COULDN'T STAND TO WEAR HER CORSET.

Sandusky lady had to be helped up and down in bed because her back was so weak and full of pain.

HEADACHES DAILY

Felt tired and draggy every morning, but Dreco has overcome all this and she now attends to her duties.

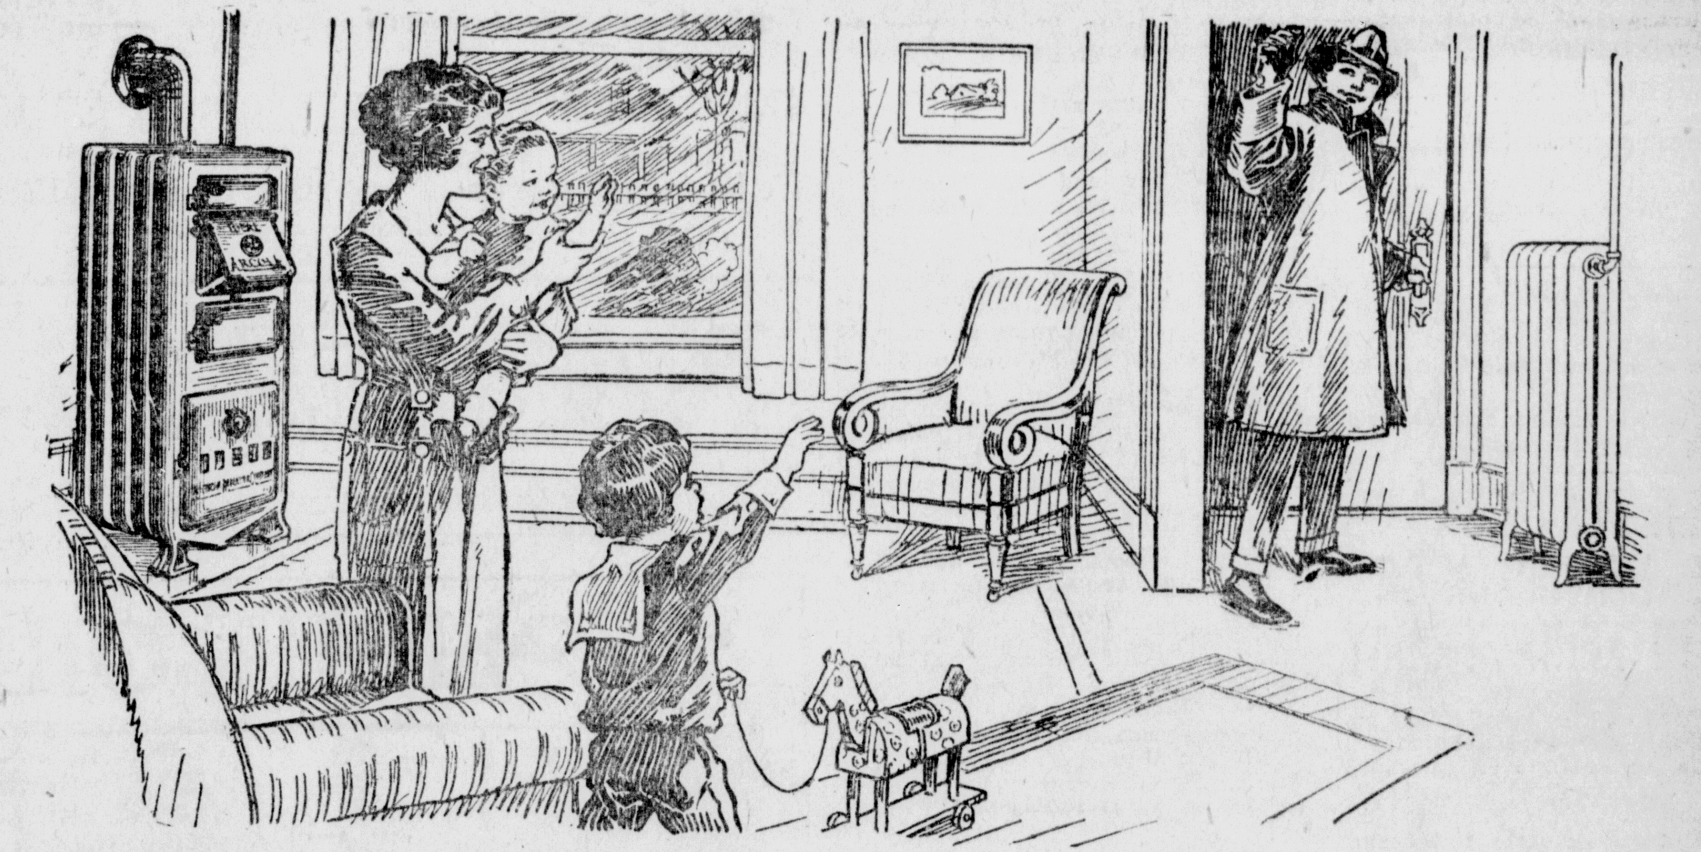

"I had such terrible backaches that I couldn't bear to wear a corset for the pressure was more than I could bear, even though I felt the need of the support it gave me," said Mrs. Jennie Mai Walker, of 176 E. Water St., Sandusky, O.

"My kidneys were in bad shape and I frequently had to get up several times during the night. My stomach was deranged for indigestion troubled me daily. My bowels were bound up and I had headaches every day, especially in the morning, when I'd get up feeling tired out and had those dragging pains. I had a spell and they had to help me up and down in bed on account of the pains in my back. I lost weight and got so weak I could not attend to my housekeeping.

"A friend told my husband to get some Dreco for me, which he did and I began taking liberal doses, which got my bowels moving and cleaned a lot of stuff out of me. My kidneys got better so that I did not have to get up during the night, and all the pain in my back disappeared. My food digested better, with no gas or pains in my stomach. I began to gain my weight back; my appetite increased; I slept sound every night and on waking I'd feel fresh, with no headaches. I take long walks now and don't grow tired; am keeping my house again, and even washed and ironed last week. Dreco has been a blessing to me, and I gladly praise it."

All good druggists sell Dreco and it is highly recommended in this city by Sohn's Drug Store.

New IDEAL-Arcola Radiator-Boiler

Reduces living cost for small homes!

You'll stop dreading winter, you'll stop having chill halls and drafty floors, you'll stop all coal-waste, and you'll enjoy the ideal comfort, the health protection and the cleanliness by putting in at once an IDEAL-Arcola Heating Outfit.

The IDEAL bargain in low-cost heating!

The IDEAL-Arcola heats the room in which it is set, but being water-jacketed, the excess heat is absorbed by the water and is made to circulate to the other rooms by pipe connected AMERICAN Radiators. Stops all coal-waste. Heats all rooms uniformly. No cellar is needed. Same water is used over and over for years.

If there are two or more tenants in the building, each can have his own Arcola and make the temperature to suit his own needs—can make his own climate! If you do not wish to heat the entire building, buy a small size IDEAL-Arcola and one or two radiators (at less price than quoted below) and later on buy extra sections for the IDEAL-Arcola and two or three more radiators to warm more rooms. Easily put in OLD Houses in winter weather without disturbance to occupants.

Changes your house into a home!

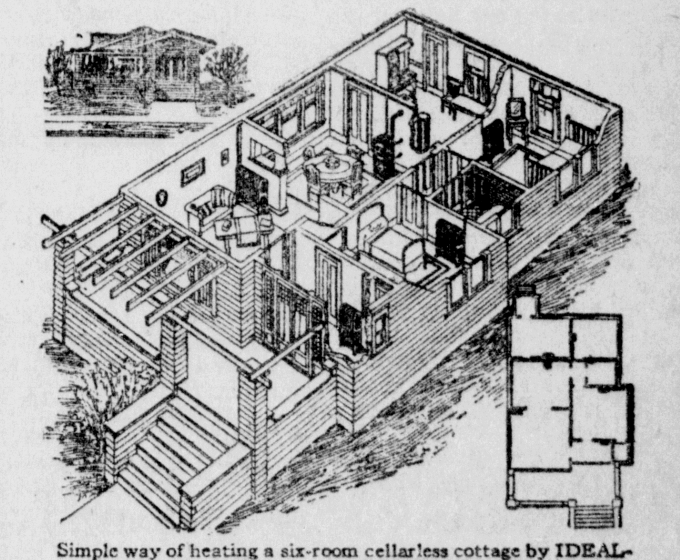

Unlike stoves, there are no coal-gas leaks into the living-rooms. The IDEAL-Arcola delivers the soft, radiant warmth of hot water—not the dry, burnt-out atmosphere of stove heating. There is no fire risk to building—no danger to children—fire lasts for hours! The Arcola burns hard or soft coal, coke or gas. Brings cost of heating down to the lowest notch—and guards your home forever against discomfort and fuel-waste!

Catalog showing open views of houses, individual flats, stores, offices, etc., with the IDEAL-Arcola Boiler in position will be mailed (free). Write today

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young widow, having lost my husband in the flu epidemic of 1918. I am living with my parents again and am very lonely.

We moved to this city several months ago, but I have found it impossible to get acquainted. I am very quiet and stay at home a great deal, which of course makes it hard for me to become acquainted.

I attend church and have been hoping I would learn to know some one there, but so far I have not. As I am young I long for the companionship of some young woman, one who would be a heart to heart friend and chum. I am twenty-five years old, play the piano, am fond of skating, horseback riding, movies, and in summer going picnicking to parks and taking pictures, and all innocent good times.

I am writing in hope that you may suggest something helpful.

A LONELY HEART.

The problem of the lonely stranger has never been adequately worked out. To join classes at the Y. W. C. A. and to attend church seems to be almost the only means a stranger has to become acquainted.

It is unfortunate that you attend church and find that of no help. Probably people do not realize how lonely you are. Go to the minister of the church and tell him what you have written me. I am sure that he will help you in some way.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young man of twenty-one. I was overseas and while I was away I corresponded with a girl at home, but not in my home town. I had not had a chance to know her very well before I left. We became engaged on condition that we cared for one another.

When I returned I went at once to see her and we became engaged. After a while I changed my mind about getting married. I had a number of reasons for so doing. I believed that she would sort of wait around for me. When I told her we had better break our engagement, she did not say much to me, but the hurt look that came into her eyes has bothered me ever since.

We both go with others, and she is very friendly to me when we meet. I am sure she has lost her confidence in me. I do not seem able to throw this out of my mind as I want and am determined to do. I am attracted by many other girls, yet, as the old ones pass and the new ones come, it is the same—all the time I see this girl's face.

Am I in love with her? Or am I just a fool who wants to be sure she loves me? This girl is beautiful and intelligent, with plenty of admirers. She is one of the finest positioned girls I ever met. Her parents are dear, but she is not dependent.

WINDY.

You may be in love, but I am inclined to believe that you are only exiled because the girl did not grieve for you as you thought she would. I admire her for her power to keep you guessing.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Some time ago my friend and I quarrelled and quit going together. Since then I have gone with several other fellows, but do not seem to care for any of them as I did the first. I believe now I can get him back, as he has given me several chances to talk to him, but as I did not know what to say I passed him on.

What would you do if you were in my place?

WILLING TO FORGIVE AND FORGET.

Speak to the young man in a friendly way, but do not worry about finding something to say. Wait until he finds something to say to you. The friendly greeting on your part is enough.

ISSUE APPEAL FOR FREE MAGAZINES

F. O. Ried, chaplain of the Ohio State Penitentiary, is making an appeal for good reading material for prisoners.

The Chaplain explains that the method now in vogue is that of sending the men and women out into the world better than they came from it and part of this plan is to supply the prisoners with good reading matter, such as magazines and other material.

Anyone having magazines and illustrated papers, therefore, are requested to box or crate them up and send them to the penitentiary, in care of Chaplain Ried. Freight charges, but not express charges, will be paid by the receiver.

O'BRIEN PLAYERS GIVE PERFORMANCE IN XENIA FRIDAY

"The Real Thing After All," will be presented at the Opera House on Friday night, by the O'Brien Players of Dayton, under the auspices of Central High school.

The play has been presented in Dayton and other nearby towns and has been heartily approved by those who have seen the production.

The production is a three-act after the war comedy drama. It has a real heroine who is willing to sacrifice her own happiness for the sake of the man she loves. The lover, blinded for years in the search for happiness, finds that real happiness lies neither in fame or service, but in the faith and comradeship of the girl that "always understand."

The players taking part in the production are members of the O'Brien Dramatic School of Dayton, which is well-known and has presented some very clever plays and always has good talent to fill the parts. The play is given local interest on account of the fact that Sara McClellan, a local girl, has an important part in the play, carrying the part of Aimee, "a little bit of France."

Rheumatic Sufferers!

Your Money Will Be Refunded if Two Bottles of Prescription C-2223 Do Not Give You Satisfactory Relief.

This guarantee is made in good faith. It is the expression of confidence of the manufacturers in the merits of Prescription C-2223 to benefit those who suffer with rheumatism, gout, lumbago and eruptive skin diseases caused by toxic poisons in the blood.

This is the guarantee which accompanies every package. Take two $1.50 bottles of Prescription C-2223 according to the directions given, following suggestions as to diet and daily habits. If, after this treatment has been used, no benefit is experienced, sufficient to justify the continuance of the medicine, take the two empty bottles back to the druggist from whom purchased and the $3.00 originally paid him will be cheerfully refunded. Your druggist reports your case and is promptly re-bursed.

Of course there are cases of long standing that require the use of several bottles to accomplish the results desired, but if no benefits are derived after taking two regular size bottles Prescription C-2223—considered a fair test—then there may be some doubts as to whether further use of the prescription is advisable.

Time and experience have demonstrated that the reasoning of the specialist, who first formulated this prescription, was based on unusual knowledge of the diseases caused by acid or toxic poisons in the blood. He made a study of such diseases; by continued experiments, he knew what drugs produced the quickest and best results. In the treatment of these diseases of his patients, he had ample opportunity to test, again and again, the curative properties of his own prescription, which is now known as Prescription C-2223.

If you suffer from rheumatism or any of the diseases caused by poisoned blood, take Prescription C-2223. The use of this great blood purifier is almost the same as consulting a specialist, for every bottle represents what the originator and many other medical authorities on such diseases would prescribe for you.

Prescription C-2223 contains no mercury, chloral, strychnine, morphine, cocaine or other habit forming or dangerous drugs. It is a concentrated liquid preparation of certain drugs having marked influence on those diseases caused by blood poisons which are produced within the system, as well as those which enter from without. Prescription C-2223 stands above all other remedies as an alternative of great power. It restores normal functions to those organs or tissues which are not naturally performing their full work; changes diseased conditions into conditions of health. It also acts especially on the excretory organs, aiding nature in removing impure products from the body.

A valuable aid to Prescription C-2223 is a mild cathartic that does not sicken or gripe. This pill stimulates the secretions of the liver, tones up and regulates the bowels. It is known as the 2223 Liver Pill and sells for 25c. As one is a dose, and no bad effects result from their use, they can be used by young and old alike.

Prescription C-2223 is guaranteed and sold by all good druggists at $1.50 a bottle, or the complete treatment of two bottles and a box of Pills for $3.25. If you cannot be supplied, write the 2223 Laboratory, Memphis, Tenn. Send name and address for literature, 1920 Almanac and a sample of the Liver Pills.

Heart and Home Problems

By Miss Elizabeth Thompson

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young widow, having lost my husband in the flu epidemic of 1918. I am living with my parents again and am very lonely.

We moved to this city several months ago, but I have found it impossible to get acquainted. I am very quiet and stay at home a great deal, which of course makes it hard for me to become acquainted.

I attend church and have been hoping I would learn to know some one there, but so far I have not. As I am young and long for the companionship of some young woman, one who would be a heart to heart friend and chum. I am twenty-five years old, play the piano, am fond of skating, horseback riding, movies, and in summer going picnicking to the lake and taking pictures, and all innocent good times.

I am writing in hope that you may suggest something helpful.

A LONELY HEART.

The problem of the lonely heart has never been adequately worked out. To join classes at the Y. W. C. A. and to attend church seems to be almost the only means a stranger has to become acquainted.

It is unfortunate that you attend church and find that of no help. Probably people do not realize how lonely you are. Go to the minister of the church and tell him what you have written me. I am sure that he will help you in some way.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young man of twenty-one. I was overseas and while I was away I was acquainted with a girl at home, but not in my home town. I had not had a chance to know her very well before I left. We became engaged on condition that we cared for one another.

When I returned I went at once to see her and we became engaged. After a while I changed my mind about getting married. I had a number of reasons for so doing. I believed that she would sort of wait around for me. When I told her we had better break our engagement, she did not say much to me, but the hurt look that came into her eyes has bothered me ever since.

We both go with others, and she is very friendly to me when we meet. I am sure she has lost her confidence in me. I do not seem able to throw this out of my mind as I want and am determined to do. I am attracted by many other girls, yet, as the old ones pass and the new ones come, it is the same—all the time I see this girl's face.

Am I in love with her? Or am I just a fool who wants to be sure she loves me? This girl is beautiful and intelligent, with plenty of admirers. She is one of the finest dispositioned girls I ever met. Her parents are dead, but she is not dependent.

WINDY.

You may be in love, but I am inclined to believe that you are only excited because the girl did not grieve for you as you thought she would. I advise her for her power to keep you guessing.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Some time ago my friend and I quarrelled and quit going together. Since then I have gone with several other fellows, but do not seem to care for any of them as I did the first. I believe now I can get him back, as he has given me several chances to talk to him, but as I did not know what to say I passed him on.

What would you do if you were in my place?

WILLING TO FORGIVE AND FORGET.

Speak to the young man in a friendly way, but do not worry about finding something to say. Wait until he finds something to say to you. The friendly greeting on your part is enough.

O'BRIEN PLAYERS GIVE PERFORMANCE IN XENIA FRIDAY

"The Real Thing After All" will be presented at the Opera House on Friday night, by the O'Brien Players of Dayton, under the auspices of Central High school.

The play has been presented in Dayton and other nearby towns and has been heartily approved by those who have seen the production.

The production is a three-act after the war comedy drama. It has a real heroine who is willing to sacrifice her own happiness for the sake of the man she loves. The lover, blinded for years in a search for happiness, finds that real happiness lies neither in fame or service, but in the faith and comradeship of the girl that "always understand."

The players taking part in the production are members of the O'Brien Dramatic School of Dayton, which is well-known and has presented some very clever plays and always has good talent to fill the parts. The play is given local interest on account of the fact that Sara McCallen, a local girl, has an important part in the play, carrying the part of Aimee, "a little bit of France."

HOLIDAY DELAYS NOTE TRANSMISSION

Washington, Feb. 23.—President Wilson's reply to the Adriatic note of the allied premiers may be transmitted to Ambassador Davis today. The reply, it is understood, is nearly completed, but the fact that a holiday is being observed in government departments may delay its transmission today.

The president is watching with most intense interest the meeting of the allied premiers in London this week, and it is understood he has forwarded instructions to Ambassador Davis to render a complete report on all the discussions.

ISSUE APPEAL FOR FREE MAGAZINES

F. O. Ried, chaplain of the Ohio State Penitentiary, is making an appeal for good reading material for prisoners.

The Chaplain explains that the method now in vogue is that of sending the men and women out into the world better than they came from it and part of this plan is to supply the prisoners with good reading matter, such as magazines and other material.

Anyone having magazines and illustrated papers, therefore, are requested to box or crate them up and send them to the penitentiary, in care of Chaplain Ried. Freight charges, but not express charges, will be paid by the receiver.

Some Men Would use Stilts

Just as quickly as they would wear rubbers. Human nature, we suppose, to dislike the "on and off" part of wearing them—too much work. Yet it's a whole lot better than taking "time out" for a full sized January cold.

KEEP YOUR FEET DRY. DON'T TAKE CHANCES.

C-2223

Rheumatic Sufferers!

Your Money Will Be Refunded if Two Bottles of Prescription C-2223 Do Not Give You Satisfactory Relief.

This guarantee is made in good faith. It is the expression of confidence of the manufacturers in the merits of Prescription C-2223 to benefit those who suffer with rheumatism, gout, lumbago and eruptive skin diseases caused by toxic poisons in the blood.

This is the guarantee which accompanies every package. Take two $1.50 bottles of Prescription C-2223 according to the directions given, following suggestions as to diet and daily habits. If, after this treatment has been used, no benefit is experienced, sufficient to justify the continuance of the medicine, take the two empty bottles back to the druggist from whom purchased and the $3.00 originally paid him will be cheerfully refunded. Your druggist reports your case and is promptly reimbursed.

Of course there are cases of long standing that require the use of several bottles to accomplish the results desired, but if no benefits are derived after taking two regular size bottles Prescription C-2223—considered a fair test—then there may be some doubts as to whether further use of the prescription is advisable.

Time and experience have demonstrated that the reasoning of the specialist, who first formulated this prescription, was based on unusual knowledge of these diseases caused by acid or toxic poisons in the blood. He made a study of such diseases; by conducting the most exact and best results. In the treatment of his patients, he had ample opportunity to test, again and again, the curative properties of his own prescription, which is now known as Prescription C-2223.

If you suffer from rheumatism or any of the diseases caused by poisoned blood, take Prescription C-2223. The use of this great blood purifier is almost the same as consulting a specialist, for every bottle represents what the originator and many other medical authorities on such diseases would prescribe for you.

Prescription C-2223 contains no mercury, chloral, strychnine, morphine, cocaine or other habit forming or dangerous drugs. It is a concentrated liquid preparation of certain drugs having marked influence on those diseases caused by blood poisons which are produced within the system, as well as those which enter from without. Prescription C-2223 stands above all other remedies as an alternative of great power. It restores normal functions to those organs or tissues which are not naturally performing their full work; changes diseased conditions into conditions of health. It also acts especially on the excretory organs, aiding nature in removing impure products from the body.

A valuable aid to Prescription C-2223 is a mild cathartic that does not sicken or gripe. This pill stimulates the secretions of the liver, tones up and regulates the bowels. It is known as the 2223 Liver Pill and sells for 25c. As one is a dose, and no bad effects result from their use, they can be used by young and old alike.

Prescription C-2223 is guaranteed and sold by all good druggists at $1.50 a bottle, or the complete treatment of two bottles and a box of Pills for $3.25. If you cannot be supplied, write the 2223 Laboratory, Memphis, Tenn. Send name and address for literature, 1920 Almanac and a sample of the Liver Pills.

Young Man! here's a tip for you

YOUR FATHER AND MOTHER DID NOT BEGIN HOUSEKEEPING IN A MANSION. They were content to start in a humble way. Why not you? The modest home is like the original penny saved—it opens the way eventually to bigger and better things.

OPPORTUNITY IS CRYING ALOUD TODAY TO THE YOUNG MAN OF VISION. Thousands have built to sell again at a profit equal almost to their earnings over the period which the transaction involved. The past has been fruitful in this regard. The future is to be overflowing with promise to those with courage enough to act.

OWN A HOME OF YOUR OWN HAS BECOME THE WORLD SLOGAN. EVENTS have proven that therein lies safety, solidity, happiness and contentment. The modest cottage with deed attached is the most desirable of all human possessions. Great Oaks from little acorns grow. The modern, comfortable perfectly appointed homes of today in ratio of one thousand to one found their nucleus in the courage and self-sacrifice of those who were content to start in a small way.

RUSSIAN PLAN CONSIDERED BY THREE PREMIERS

London, Feb. 23.—Stanislaus Patek, the Polish foreign minister, who was reported Saturday night to be on his way to London to urge the council of premiers to sanction immediate peace negotiations between Poland and soviet Russia, has postponed his visit, according to advices from Warsaw today. Minister Patek, it was said, would remain at Warsaw until the Polish government had completed the draft of its Russian terms.

The Russian situation was understood to be under consideration when the premiers resumed their session today with Premier Millerand, of France present. It was reported that the French premier, who opposes the views of Premier Nitti and Lloyd George, who are said to favor a plan for the opening of negotiations with the soviet.

Two other all important questions before the premiers this week are the Turkish settlement and the Adriatic dispute. Belief was expressed in some quarters that President Wilson's rejoinder to the allied premiers' note on Fiume might be in the premiers' hands today or tomorrow.

Six nations will be represented in the deliberations this week—England, France and Italy, Japan, Belgium and Roumania.

SPRINGFIELD MAY BECOME MEMBER OF CENTRAL LEAGUE

Springfield, which is endeavoring to establish league ball, through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, has been invited to become a member of a Central League circuit to be composed mostly of Michigan teams, but will likely decline the offer.

The Springfield backers of the movement are attempting to organize a league of teams in this section which would cause short jumps and cut down traveling expenses. The proposition of the Michigan magnates will likely be turned down because it is too far away.

In the Michigan circuit cities signed up are, Manistee, Ludington, Muskegon, Lansing, Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo, and offers have been made to Springfield, and to Richmond, Ind.

The salary limit was fixed at $2,500, the price of admission will be 40 cents, and an amendment to the constitution forbids transfer of players from one club to another during the last thirty days of the season without authority from the board of directors. The waiver price was set at $100, a 100 per cent increase over the old waiver price.

THIRD MAN ALLEGED IMPLICATED IN STILL OPERATION ARRESTED

Leroy McFarland, colored, one of the men charged with operating a still, whose activities were uncovered by the Sheriff's raid last week, was arrested Saturday by Patrolman Charles Simms, and was sent over to the custody of United States Marshall Devaney at Dayton, Monday morning at nine o'clock.

McFarland, who is known as "Paddle Tom," was not in Xenia, when the moonshine raids were made by Sheriff Funderburg, Revenue Collector H. A. Higgins, and sheriff's deputies last week. The still, which it is alleged he owned in partnership with John Bowman, who was taken into custody, was confiscated, however, and McFarland arrested as soon as he returned to the city.

"Paddle Tom" lived at the home of Mrs. Lawrence, 23 Lawrence avenue, and the still was discovered there after it had been moved from the Bowman home, when Mrs. Bowman objected to its operation there. It had not yet been connected when it was discovered by the officials.

LOUISVILLE MAN GAINS 15 POUNDS

Never Drew Full Pay Until
Tanlac Built Him Up—
Works Every Day
Now.

"When a man has had stomach trouble for three years so bad he couldn't eat anything, not even eggs without suffering afterwards and then finds a medicine that fixes him up so he can eat cabbage or anything else he wants, I think it's time for him to talk for the benefit of others. Well that's what Tanlac has done for me, besides I am now fifteen pounds heavier than I was the day I began taking it a few weeks ago."

The above statement was made by T. H. Monroe, a motorman on the Preston and Eighteenth street car line in Louisville, Ky., living at 220 South Eighteenth street, while discussing the medicine recently.

"I never knew what it was to draw a full pay-check," Mr. Monroe continued, "for there was always from four to eight days taken out for time lost, on account of my being unable to work. I was in such bad shape that it looked like I would have to quit entirely."

"Nothing agreed with me and what little I did eat felt like lead in my stomach. My food would invariably sour, causing gas, bloating and worst of all, indigestion. I was constipated all the time, continually lost weight, and for three years I was miserable."

"But since taking Tanlac I am feeling fine and always draw full pay, for I am on the job every day now. I decided to try Tanlac because a lady living at Valley Station told me that Tanlac relieved her indigestion completely. I got a bottle and soon after that I commenced to feel better. I have taken five bottles now and can eat cabbage, turnips or just anything else I want and never feel a touch of indigestion. Why, my stomach simply feels like a new one and I am just like a different man. Whenever any of my family complain of feeling bad I give them Tanlac. If it is my family medicine and has saved me many a dollar and would have saved me lots more if I had known about it three years ago. Yes, sir I certainly can recommend Tanlac, for I believe it's the best medicine ever sold in a drug store for any sort of stomach trouble."

"Tanalac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill."

the results will be just the same. Add celery and onions cut fine; add one-half cup hot water, and let cook slowly. Add seasoning half hour before done. Before taking from fire add the remaining one-half tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. Cook two hours.

Do not add very much water as the celery and onions draw water.

Uncooked Salad Dressing.—One can of sweetened condensed milk; add two beaten eggs, one teaspoon mustard and one of salt. Sprinkle use about three-quarter cup vinegar (not strong). You may find it best to add the vinegar slowly and make it as sour as you wish, or to taste. This will thicken in about half an hour so that you may add a little milk or vinegar, as you prefer.

This will keep for some little time; keep in cool place.

Pancake Recipe.—Take four large or six medium potatoes; grate fine, break in two eggs, add one teaspoon salt, one cup flour. Mix all good and fry.

If you must have breakfast early, you can grate the potatoes the evening before, cover with flour, and they are just as nice as if you had just grated them.

TASTY SALADS.

Pork Potato Salad.—One and one-half cups cooked pork, cut fine; one and one-half cups cooked potato, cut fine; one-half cup celery, cut fine; one-half teaspoon salt, two tablespoons finely chopped pickle, salad dressing.

Mix in the order given. Cover with dressing and garnish with sliced pickles and celery tops. White cabbage may be used in place of the celery if desired.

Heart-Beet Salad.—With a sharp knife cut slices of cooked beets into little heart slices. Place on lettuce leaves and partly cover with any good mayonnaise.

A MODERN STORY OF HOME AND BUSINESS

ROBERT FINDS WORK BUT NOT HAPPINESS

CHAPTER 59

Mary Ryan flushed when I asked her why she wanted to know if I had seen Marion Hovey, but answered "I thought I saw her and Robert waiting in the park yesterday. My head ached and instead of going to lunch I took a walk. I didn't pass them, so I may be mistaken. But if I was you I'd hurry up a job for him if I could. Ain't you ever heard about Satan finding mischief for them that are idle?"

"It wouldn't be anything very wrong for them to take a walk, would it?" I tried to speak lightly. "Not if that was all there was to it. But usually it ain't."

Madame just then called Mary, so I had no chance to reply. So my fears were true, and Robert did spend some of his time with Marion. I thought of it bitterly, then more sanely said to myself:

"I suppose the poor fellow hardly knows what to do with himself all day long." I wanted to excuse him yet I felt that he had no excuse. I had no time to walk in the park, no time for anything but work.

"Did you find anything today?" I asked while we were getting ready for dinner.

"Yes and no. I found one place I can have, but the pay don't amount to much."

"How much?"

"Less than Calding gave me. The boss, Mr. Birch, said he couldn't understand why Calding let me go—that he always made it a practice to keep his help—if they were good salesmen. But—"

"You explained that you had been hurt, didn't you? That you had been away several weeks," I interrupted.

"Yes—I told him as that—gave all the excuses I had up my sleeve." I had said nothing about the position at Leeds. Perhaps Mary was too sanguine, and they would not take Robert on. He knew absolutely nothing of the business, and would have to commence at the very bottom. But also I knew that if they would take him, he would have a chance to rise. So later in the evening I said:

"You don't seem any too pleased over your new position, Robert." He had said no more concerning it, had even acted more depressed than usual.

"Why should I be? Less salary than when we were first married. One isn't apt to be very proud, or to talk much of a thing like that."

"Oh, you mustn't take it like that! You will get more after you have worked for them awhile."

"Will I? I'm glad you are so optimistic."

I paid no attention to his sarcasm. Then after a minute, I said:

"How would you like a position in the downtown office of the shop?"

"You mean—hats?"

Yes, but perhaps you could be bookkeeper or something like that. I didn't mean to sell hats."

"I should hope not!"

"Mary Ryan thinks Mr. Leeds might take you on if she asked him. He thinks a good deal of her and—"

"Not on your life! tell Mary to mind her own business. I wouldn't work for him if he paid me ten times what I am worth!"

Robert interrupted, the veins of his forehead standing out as they did when he was angry, and his face red, almost purple.

"Why, Robert! whatever is the matter? Mary only meant to be kind."

"Oh, Mary is all right," he spoke more quietly. "But I will attend to my own affairs. It is bad enough to have you work without being embarrassed by working for the same people. I suppose they would pay me about half what you get, and be so sorry for you because you had such a niceconpop for a husband."

I thought he referred to his inability to earn, not to any dislike of my earnings, so made no reply.

Tomorrow—Gerry begins to wonder.

RUSSIAN PLAN CONSIDERED BY THREE PREMIERS

London, Feb. 23.—Stanislaus Patek, the Polish foreign minister, who was reported Saturday night to be on his way to London to urge the council of premiers to sanction immediate peace negotiations between Poland and Soviet Russia, has postponed his visit, according to advices from Warsaw today. The Russian situation was understood to be under consideration when the premiers resumed their session today with Premier Millerand, of France present. It was reported that the French premier, who opposes the views of Premier Nitti and Lloyd George, who are said to favor a plan for the opening of negotiations with the Soviet.

Two other all important questions before the premiers this week are the Turkish settlement and the Adriatic dispute. Belief was expressed in some quarters that President Wilson's rejoinder to the allied premiers' note on Fiume might be in the premiers' hands today or tomorrow.

Six nations will be represented in the deliberations this week—England, France and Italy, Japan, Belgium and Rumania.

Leroy McFarland, colored, one of the men charged with operating a still, whose activities were uncovered by the Sheriff's raid last week, was arrested Saturday by Patrolman Charles Simms, and was sent over to the custody of United States Marshall Devaney at Dayton, Monday morning at nine o'clock.

"Paddy Tom" lived at the home of Mrs. Lawrence, 23 Lawrence avenue, and the still was discovered there after it had been moved from the Bowman home, when Mrs. Bowman objected to its operation there. It had not yet been connected when it was discovered by the officials.

cooperative elevators being operated in Ohio.

As a result of his talk it was decided to take action toward securing an elevator of this sort in Xenia. John T. Hutchison was made temporary chairman and Elmer Hetzel temporary secretary of the organization, and 22 people pledged themselves to support the plan by subscribing for stock at $100 a share.

A committee of fifteen men to canvass the territory was appointed.

The interdenominational day of prayer for world evangelization was observed by Xenia church women with a prayer meeting at Trinity.

LOUISVILLE MAN GAINS 15 POUNDS

Never Drew Full Pay Until
Tanlac Built Him Up—
Works Every Day
Now.

"When a man has had stomach trouble for three years so bad he couldn't eat anything, not even eggs without suffering afterwards and then finds a medicine that fixes him up so he can eat cabbage or anything else he wants, I think it's time for him to talk for the benefit of others. Well that's what Tanlac has done for me, besides I am now fifteen pounds heavier than I was the day I began taking it a few weeks ago."

The above statement was made by T. H. Monroe, a motorman on the Preston and Eighteenth street car line in Louisville, Ky., living at 220 South Eighteenth street, while discussing the medicine recently.

"I never knew what it was to draw a full pay-check," Mr. Monroe continued, "for there was, always from time to time, three days taken out for time lost, on account of my being unable to work. I was in such bad shape that it looked like I would have to quit entirely."

"Nothing agreed with me and what little I did eat felt like lead in my stomach. My food would invariably sour, causing gas, bloating and worst kind of pains. I was constipated all the time, continually lost weight, and for three years I was miserable."

"But since always draw full pay, for I am on the job every day now. I decided to try Tanlac because a lady living at Valley Station told me that Tanlac relieved her indigestion completely. I got a bottle and soon after starting on it I commenced to feel better. I have taken five bottles now and can eat cabbage, turnips or just anything else I want and never feel a touch of indigestion. Why, my stomach simply feels like a new one and I am just like a different man."

Whenever any of my family complains of feeling bad I give them Tanlac. It is my family medicine and has saved me many a dollar and would have saved me lots more if I had known about it three years ago. Yes, sir I certainly can recommend Tanlac, for I believe it's the best medicine ever sold in a drug store for any sort of stomach trouble."

A MODERN STORY OF HOME AND BUSINESS

ROBERT FINDS WORK BUT NOT HAPPINESS CHAPTER 59

Mary Ryan flushed when I asked her why she wanted to know if I had seen Marion Hovey, but answered "I thought I saw her and Robert walking in the park yesterday. My head ached and instead of going to lunch I took a walk. I didn't pass them, so I may be mistaken. But if I was you I'd hurry up a job for him if I could. Ain't you ever heard about Satan finding mischief for them that are idle?"

"It wouldn't be anything very wrong for them to take a walk, would it?" I tried to speak lightly. "Not if that was all there was to it. But usually it ain't."

Madame just then called Mary, so I had no chance to reply. So my fears were true, and Robert did spend some of his time with Marion. I thought of it bitterly, then more sanely said to myself:

"I suppose the poor fellow hardly knows what to do with himself all day long." I wanted to excuse him yet I felt that he had no excuse. I had no time to walk in the park, no time for anything but work.

"Did you find anything today?" I asked while we were getting ready for dinner.

"Yes and no. I found one place I can have, but the pay don't amount to much."

"How much?"

"Less than Calding gave me. The boss, Mr. Birch, said he couldn't understand why Calding let me go—that he always made it a practice to keep his help—if they were good salesmen. But—"

"You explained that you had been hurt, didn't you? That you had been away several weeks." I interrupted.

"Yes—I told him all that—gave all the excuses I had up my sleeve."

I had said nothing about the position at Leets. Perhaps Mary was too sanguine, and they would not take Robert on. He knew absolutely nothing of the business, and would have to commence at the very bottom. But also I knew that if they would take him, he would have a chance to rise. So later in the evening I said:

"You don't seem any too pleased over your new position, Robert." He had said no more concerning it, had even acted more depressed than usual.

"Why should I be? Less salary than when we were first married. One isn't apt to be very proud, or to talk much of a thing like that."

"Oh, you mustn't take it like that! You will get more after you have worked for them awhile."

"Will I? I'm glad you are so optimistic."

I paid no attention to his sarcasm. Then after a minute, I said:

"How would you like a position in the down-town office of the shop?"

"You mean—hats?"

Yes, but perhaps you could be bookkeeper or something like that. I didn't mean to sell hats."

"I should hope not!"

"Mary Ryan thinks Mr. Leets might take you on if she asked him. He thinks a good deal of her and—"

"Not on your life! tell Mary to mind her own business. I wouldn't work for him if he paid me ten times what I am worth!" Robert interrupted, the veins of his forehead standing out as they did when he was angry, and his face red, almost purple.

"Why, Robert! whatever is the matter? Mary only meant to be kind."

"Oh, Mary is all right," he spoke more quietly. "But I will attend to my own affairs. It is bad enough to have you work without being embarrassed by working for the same people. I suppose they would pay me about half what you get, and be so sorry for you because you had such a nincompoop for a husband."

I thought he referred to his inability to earn, not to any dislike of my earnings, so made no reply.

Tomorrow—Gerry begins to wonder.
